moves from Rome to Avignon

A topographical map of Europe with a focus on the Mediterranean region. Two red dots mark the locations of Avignon and Rome. Avignon is located on the southern coast of France, and Rome is located in central Italy. The map shows the surrounding landmasses, including the British Isles, Scandinavia, and parts of North Africa and the Middle East. The sea is depicted in blue, and land is in shades of green and brown.

Points for Home

- Intelligible preaching is important!
- “How then can they call on the one they have not believed in? And how can they believe in the one of whom they have not heard? And how can they hear without someone preaching to them?”
(Romans 10:14)

Points for Home

- Intelligible preaching is important!
“If you confess with your mouth, ‘Jesus is Lord,’ and believe in your heart that God raised him from the dead, you will be saved.” (Romans 10:9)
